Met with Ben Moore and his excellent equipage this morning. At eleven thirty I went to Dr. Chase's to have my teeth cleaned, and he gave me a reprieve of six months before he would do any substantive work on suspicious-looking molars.

Lunched at the Department, and then thrust myself inquisitively into various problems.

Tonight we dined with Lorraine Shevlin, Pauline Davis, C. D. Jackson and his wife, Bill Paley and ditto, the Phil Grahams, Lorraine's brother and others were there.
